SUPERSEDING
INDICTMENT

THE GRAND JURY CHARGES:

COUNT ONE
RACKETEERING CONSPIRACY
18 U.S.C. § 1962(d)

THE ENTERPRISE

At various times material to this Indictment:

1. The defendants, ROBERT B. LEDBETTER, aka Brandon, aka Killer B, aka B, LANCE A. GREEN, aka Jigga, aka Jiggs, ALLEN L. WRIGHT, aka Al-Nuts, TYSIN L. GORDON, aka Cez, aka Sleep, CHRISTOPHER A. HARRIS, aka O-Dog, ROBERT L. WILSON, III, aka RJ, RASHAD A. LISTON, aka Buck, aka Buckwheat, DEOUNTE USSURY, aka D Frog, THOMAS E. COATES, aka Tom-C, aka Eag, JOSEPH HILL, aka Little Joe, FREDDIE K. JOHNSON, aka Freeze Pop, aka Michael Jackson, DESHAWN SMITH, aka Evil D, LANCE REYNOLDS, ANDRE M. BROWN, aka Paco, and others, were members and associates of a criminal organization in the Short North area of Columbus, Ohio, known as the Short North Posse (SNP), also known as (a.k.a.) Homicide Squad (HS), aka Homicide, a.k.a. Cut Throat (CT), aka Cut Throat Committee whose members and associates engaged in murders, attempted murders, drug trafficking, weapons trafficking, extortion, robbery, arson, and other crimes within the Southern District of Ohio.

2. The Short North Posse, including its members and associates, constituted an "enterprise" as defined by 18 U.S.C. § 1961(4), that is, a group of individuals associated in fact. The enterprise was engaged in, and its activities affected, interstate and foreign commerce. The enterprise constituted an ongoing organization whose members functioned as a continuing unit for a common purpose of achieving the objectives of the enterprise.

PURPOSES OF THE ENTERPRISE

The purposes of the enterprise included, but were not limited to, the following:

3. Promoting, protecting, and enhancing the authority, reputation, and standing of the Short North Posse through the use of intimidation, threats, possession of weapons, assaults, attempted murders, and murders.

4. Maintaining control over and protecting the geographic territory of the enterprise through acts of intimidation, threats, and violence in order to further the members' and associates' distribution of controlled substances.

5. Enriching its members and associates through, among other things, the commission of crimes involving the distribution of controlled substances, robbery and murder for hire, burglary, theft, and breaking and entering.

6. Protecting the enterprise and its members and associates from detection, apprehension, and prosecution by law enforcement authorities.

7. Enforcing its authority and power by disciplining and punishing members and associates who did not comply with codes or rules, or who committed acts against other members, or the families of members, or the enterprise and its territory.

8. Retaliating with acts of violence and intimidation against non-members and rival gang members who committed acts against members and associates, the family of members and associates, or the enterprise.

MEANS AND METHODS OF THE ENTERPRISE

9. The Short North Posse enterprise derived its name from Short North area of Columbus, Ohio, which was the enterprise's main base of operation. The boundaries of the enterprise's territory generally included the area bordered by Fifth Avenue (south), Chittenden Avenue (north), Grant Street (east) and High Street (west). The Short North Posse maintained and controlled this territory, such that, within the territory they and their associates conducted drug sales with impunity. Originally members of the enterprise referred to themselves solely as the "Short North Posse" or "SNP." Later some members began subsets of the Short North Posse referring to themselves as "Cut Throat" and "Homicide Squad." Still within the Short North Posse, Cut Throat and Homicide Squad specialized in murders and robberies of rival gangs, other drug dealers, and targets thought to have large sums of cash or firearms. The Short North Posse also identified themselves nationally with the "Crips" street gang.

10. Short North Posse members tightly controlled their territory and established, in effect, an exclusive area within which only Short North Posse members and associates could conduct their primary income producing venture, which was the distribution of cocaine, cocaine base (hereinafter "crack cocaine"), heroin, oxycodone and marijuana. The Short North Posse controlled the neighborhood through intimidation, fear and violence. If an individual not associated with the Short North Posse attempted to enter this area to sell drugs, or otherwise intruded in this territory, they would be discouraged from doing so or even physically assaulted, to include being threatened or shot with a firearm, which members and associates regularly made available for such purposes.

11. For the vast majority of Short North Posse members, the sale of cocaine, crack cocaine, heroin, oxycodone and marijuana, and committing robbery and murder for hire was their only source of income. Short North Posse members projected a violent attitude in order to ensure that the enterprise's ability to conduct criminal activity and that its territory was protected. In addition, members were expected to retaliate with acts of violence when members and associates of the enterprise were subjected to disrespect, threats, intimidation, or acts of violence. Short North Posse members believed that if they did not project violence and retaliate when acts of intimidation or violence were committed against one of their members or associates, then their stature and ability to conduct criminal activity would be lessened and their territory threatened or lost.

12. The Short North Posse enterprise marked its territory and its boundaries with graffiti. Short North Posse graffiti was found on Short North area buildings and other buildings within their territory. Short North Posse members marked themselves with common tattoos, displayed hand signs, customized clothing and utilized social networking sites to show their membership in, or affiliation with, the enterprise. Several members had tattoos to identify themselves as members of the Short North Posse and to represent their territory.

13. Short North Posse members often traveled outside its general territory to expand its ability to sell drugs, and find targets for robbery. Short North Posse members also projected a violent attitude throughout the city of Columbus and State of Ohio in order to increase their ability to commit criminal acts and deter retaliation and witnesses cooperating with law enforcement. Short North Posse members would recruit associates outside the Short North area in order to assist with the expansion of their criminal activity.

14. Short North Posse members threatened and/or intimidated witnesses to deter them from providing information to law enforcement and to enforce a "no snitching" code. Persons and members who failed to adhere to the code were subjected to acts of violence.

15. Short North Posse members enforced a code of conduct where members and associates were not allowed to associate with non members who were perceived threats to the Short North Posse enterprise. Members and associates who failed to adhere to the code were subjected to violent acts.

16. Short North Posse members and associates were allowed to deal with other gangs in the drug trade without breaking the code as long as it was not to the detriment of other Short North Posse members.

17. Short North Posse members routinely armed themselves with firearms in order to protect their territory, to protect their drug trade, to project a violent attitude toward non-members and rival gang members, and to retaliate against any non-members and rival gang members who threatened any Short North Posse member or associate.

18. Short North Posse members routinely supply each other with firearms and ammunition. They would also pool funds in order to obtain firearms and ammunition.

19. Short North Posse members and associates provided assistance to incarcerated members by providing them with money or photographs of members.

20. Short North Posse members participated in the production of songs and music CDs to boast of the existence of the enterprise, to communicate their violent methods, to threaten non-members and rival gang members, and to establish a code of conduct for fellow members to follow. These songs were posted on various social networking sites utilized by Short North Posse members.

21. The Short North Posse enterprise had an informal structure where status and respect were acquired in a large part by the commission of acts of violence, the accumulation of money, narcotics or sources of narcotics.

THE RACKETEERING CONSPIRACY

22. Beginning in or about 2005, the exact date being unknown to the grand jury, and continuing thereafter up to the date of the indictment, in the Southern District of Ohio and elsewhere, the defendants, ROBERT B. LEDBETTER, aka Brandon, aka Killer B, aka B, LANCE A. GREEN, aka Jigga, aka Jiggs, ALLEN L. WRIGHT, aka Al-Nuts, TYSIN L. GORDON, aka Cez, aka Sleep, CHRISTOPHER A.
